

RISK CONSULTING ACROSS MULTIPLE LINES OF BUSINESS EXPOSURES

Does your company have safety, ergonomic, property, general liability, or other potential exposures?

QP3 Ergosystems can help you address potential safety risks with our highly qualified and responsive team. Our experts have decades of experience in multiple lines of business exposures. We can help you get started right away in virtually every area of need, from the very simple to the complex.

We can help.

“Integrating people, materials and equipment...
to make companies better!”™

Our Areas of Expertise

PROPERTY

Our property experts have experience with multiple lines of business exposures, including nearly all areas of property (HPR, builders risk, natural hazards, construction fire insurance ratings, site security, disaster planning and sprinkler system plan reviews), plus we have fleet, marine, general liability, educators' liability, and large claim settlement experience. We also have experts who can conduct product safety and liability reviews.

CASUALTY

The QP3 ErgoSystems casualty risk consultants are available to assist clients of all types and sizes, including retail and manufacturing, with the development of site specific EHS programs including hazardous materials management, required regulatory training programs, and behavior-based safety programs, among others.

ERGONOMICS

Our Ergonomics team includes Certified Industrial Ergonomists (CIE's), and other consultants skilled in Office Ergonomics assessments. Ergonomics services include onsite assessments for manufacturing, construction, processing, services and other industries, the customized and flexible full-length Effective Industrial Ergonomics™ course, and office ergonomics offerings that include remote workstation assessments, onsite training, and personal workstation assessments. We also offer customized stretching and physical job demands analyses.

Online Tools & Resources

Online offerings from QP3 ErgoSystems include subscription options for Office Ergonomics Self-assessment and Training Programs, as well as unique stretching programs designed for truck drivers, manufacturing, assembly and office employees. You can also download our easy-to-complete Fleet Program Assessment Guide to assess your fleet program. We can also partner with you to help as you work to reduce your Fleet Accident Costs (FAC.)

*The diverse skill sets on the QP3 team provide clients with "one stop" Risk Consulting Services, simplified vendor management, and geographic efficiency to further our mission of helping clients to enhance their overall quality, productivity, performance and profitability.
